RECOMMENDATION:

The District President recommends approval of the Heritage Commission recommendations for the City of Plano's 2023 Heritage Tax Exemption program.

RE: City of Plano 2023 Heritage Tax Exemption

Dear Ms. Irby:

The Plano City Council has approved partial tax exemptions for 86 properties and denied partial tax exemption for one (1) property within the City of Plano for the 2023 Heritage Tax Exemption program. Please schedule a review of the recommended tax exemptions for an upcoming meeting of the Collin College Board. Timing is important and the list of exempted properties must be forwarded to the Collin Central Appraisal District as soon as possible.

The purpose of heritage tax exemption is to incentivize maintenance of historic properties in a manner that reflects significance to the community. In accordance with the Heritage Tax Exemption Ordinance, Planning staff conducts an annual survey of all properties requesting a tax exemption to ensure that proper maintenance and upkeep are occurring. The tax exemptions apply only to the value of "improvements" to the property (historic buildings, accessory buildings, fencing, etc.), not to the land value. The exemption rates and property categories are noted below:

Class	Property Category	Exemption Rate
A	Heritage Landmark - Residential Use	100%
B	Heritage Landmark - Non-Residential Use	50%
C	Contributing or Compatible Structure - Residential Use	75%
D	Contributing or Compatible Structure - Non-Residential Use	38%

I have attached a copy of the approved Ordinance No. 2023-2-3 listing properties approved for tax exemption (Exhibit A) for 2023. Exhibit A summarizes the properties recommended for approval and includes information such as exemption percentage applied, property improvement values, and estimated tax exemption values for the Collin College portion. Please note since 2023 appraised values have not been established and the 2023 property tax rate has not been set, the actual value of these exemptions will be determined by the Collin Central Appraisal District in September 2023.

The Heritage Commission and Plano's historic preservation program relies heavily upon this tax exemption program. Your contribution helps the City continue to offer valuable incentives for preservation of our irreplaceable resources. Please inform me of the results of the meeting so that I may forward the information to the Collin Central Appraisal District.

Thank you again for your continued assistance with this program. If you have any questions, please feel free to call me at (972) 941-7151.

Sincerely,

SUBJECT

Consideration of Approval of the Academic Calendar for the 2023-2024 and 2024-2025 Academic Terms

RECOMMENDATION

The District President recommends approval of the proposed Academic Calendar for the 2023-2024 and 2024-2025 Academic Terms.

RATIONALE

The Academic Calendar is developed and reviewed by the College Calendar Committee, with representatives from Faculty, Academic Deans, Curriculum Office, Dual Credit, Financial Aid, Communications, Student and Enrollment Services, Human Resources, Institutional Research, Payroll, and Bursar's Office. The dates are set in accordance with the state mandated start dates and in consultation with local independent school districts (ISDs). The Academic Calendar was sent forward from the committee to the Executive Leadership Team to the Academic, Governance, and Strategic Planning Council (AGS), who approved the recommendations.

In previous years, the Board has traditionally approved one academic year at a time. In order to facilitate cooperation with our local ISD partners over academic year alignments, we are proposing approval by the Board of the next two academic years. This two-year potential approval and subsequent annual review of the second-year calendar will allow for greater planning opportunities. The Calendar Committee will also begin a five-year guide to share with ISDs as projected calendars. The guide will be published on our website with the designation that each year beyond the two-year approval is tentative until approved by the Board. This allows for future planning by faculty, staff, and community partners as well as allows for classes to be more strategically scheduled in advance.

Faculty Sabbatical Leave for Fall 2023

Name	Discipline	Campus	Duration
Kimberly Harris	Music	McKinney	One Semester
Rex Kare	Arts/Photography	Plano	One Semester
Tonya McMillion	Video Production	Frisco	One Semester

Sabbatical Proposal for Kimberly C. Harris
Professor of Music
Sabbatical Leave Period: August 2023 – December 2023

Abstract

Evidence-based practices demonstrate that course design, rather than content, rules as "king" of instruction. When course design aligns all aspects of instruction with Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs), the resulting framework benefits students by allowing them to demonstrate mastery through a scaffolding of assessments and learning activities (McTighe and Wiggins, 2012). According to recent literature, textbook costs are rising at a rate four times that of inflation and approximately only 30% of students purchase required course textbooks (Hilton, 2016). Currently, no resources exist that are both free for the Collin College Music Appreciation students that also align with the Collin College and State of Texas required SLOs including the Core Objectives: Teamwork, Communication Skills, Critical Thinking, and Social Responsibility.

My sabbatical plan is to create a Music Appreciation Open Education Resource specifically aligned to the SLOs required by Collin College and the State of Texas for the MUSI1306 Music Appreciation Core classes. Sets of clear and measurable unit level learning objectives with assessments and corresponding rubrics (including a set that can be partially co-developed with students) will be created using the backward design method. A set of learning activities that align with the assessments will also be created. Any faculty teaching the Music Appreciation courses will have the option to offer students this free resource that aligns with the required SLOs. Faculty will also have access to the aligned assessments and learning activities. I will also create a series of professional development videos associated with the resources. The deliverables from this sabbatical will increase student access, reduce student costs, and improve assessment of the SLOS for the MUSI1306 course. Thank you for your consideration.

Sabbatical Proposal for Rex Kare
Professor of Art
Sabbatical Leave Period: August 2023 – December 2023

Abstract

In art, portraiture, the rendering of likeness of the sitter, is a cornerstone of an artist's skill set. Regularly, to supplement drawing from a live model, it is common for students to draw from casts of sculptures, allowing them to focus on proportion, technique, and details that they may sometimes miss during a live limed session.

Traditionally, the sculptural forms that students would reference are casts of portraits from classical antiquity and reflect a specifically western European concept of beauty and proportion. As a product of academy training at the New York Academy of Art, I can attest to the need for a greater diversity of facial forms and features in the examples that I came across in its cast hall.

My intent for sabbatical begins with starting a collection of plaster casts of portrait sculptures for the Collin College Art Department, which will be accessible to all drawing and painting students specifically for this practice of learning to draw from observation. To start this, I propose to sculpt several busts in clay from live models during my time on sabbatical. The subsequent casts in plaster from these clay portraits and facial forms, as well as from a couple sculptures I completed previously, will be placed on display in the drawing studio in the Plano campus for use in exercises and assignments.

Secondly, and maybe more importantly, these portraits will begin to reflect the broad racial diversity that exist in our own diverse community, setting for our students a very inclusive and broad benchmark of concepts of beauty and proportion. I can only make so many in a limited amount of time, but my hope is that over time, more will be added.

Additionally, I will continue my involvement in online workshops regarding anatomical drawing and painting best practices, so that I can continue refining and updating the content of my courses and approach to teaching Life Drawing, and Painting at Collin College.

Sabbatical Proposal for Tonya McMillion
Professor of Video Production
Sabbatical Leave Period: August 2023 – December 2023

Abstract

As the Discipline Lead of the Video Production program, it is important to constantly update my knowledge of the entertainment and production industry. My goal for this sabbatical is to develop my television writing, my video editing skills and to earn a certificate in TV and Film industry essentials from NYU's Tisch School of Arts.

This sabbatical will afford me time to learn the latest technological advances in the entertainment industry and to delve into the state-of-the-art processes I can implement into the Video Production curriculum. This acquired knowledge will allow our students to learn the latest innovative developments in our field.

AGENDA ITEM:

Report Out of the Organization, Education, and Policy Committee, First Reading of Local Board Policy

- DGBA (Local) Personnel – Management Relations – Employee Grievances

DISCUSSION:

As a part of the College's comprehensive review of all policies and with updates and recommendations from the Texas Association of School Boards' Legal and Policy Service, the local policy outlined below is being presented for review as a first reading.

- DGBA (Local) Personnel - Management Relations – Employee Grievances – REWRITE – Revisions to the College District's employee complaint process.

SUGGESTED MOTION:

This being a first reading of local board policy, no action is required.

POLICY REWRITE

Purpose

The College District is committed to providing a fair, safe, and productive work environment where ~~grievances~~employee complaints are ~~dealt~~considered with ~~sensitively~~sensitivity and ~~expeditiously-in a prompt manner~~. The purpose of the College District's grievance complaint policy is to assist in resolving all workplace issues and problems. The College District believes the best way of maintaining employee job satisfaction and good working relationships is to follow a procedure for solving problems and ~~grievances~~complaints as they arise.

In most situations, employees should first make every effort to attempt to resolve matters informally by meeting with the person or persons involved, or if that is not feasible, with the immediate supervisor of the person involved prior to accessing the formal complaint process. Exceptions may include cases involving allegations of unlawful harassment, whistleblower allegations, and other instances where it may be impractical to do so.

Freedom from Retaliation

The College District will not tolerate any form of retaliation against an employee who brings a complaint pursuant to this policy. [See DG]

Notice

College District employees and students are informed of this policy through a variety of meetings and publications, such as orientations, the student handbook, and the human resources website.

The respondent is the person or entity that the complaint is filed against.

In cases involving unlawful harassment, discrimination, or retaliation, the employee must report the prohibited conduct as soon as possible after the alleged act or knowledge of the alleged act so that the College District can take appropriate action at the earliest possible stage. Complaint records are confidential to the extent permitted by law. Limited disclosures may be necessary in order to conduct a thorough investigation. Additionally, information may be disclosed in response to a subpoena or as otherwise may be required by law.

Recording Meetings

~~Meetings held with the RRP are recorded by the College District. A complainant, respondent, or witness whose interview is recorded may request a copy of the recording of his or her interview. Release of records will be in compliance with the Texas Public Information Act.~~

The College District will protect the individuals' privacy in a complaint filed under this policy to the extent that it is practical and allowed by law and College District policy. However, there may be times when disclosure of information is required in order to process or investigate a complaint. In all cases, efforts will be made to protect the privacy of individuals.

Representative

The complainant may designate a representative, including an attorney at the complainant's own cost, to represent ~~him or her~~ the complainant at any level of the process by notifying the manager, ~~of HR/~~employee relations in writing.

If necessary, the College District may reschedule any meetings to include the College District's counsel. Each party will pay its own fees and costs incurred by representatives in the course of the complaint process.

~~Detailed~~The College will implement procedures to resolve employee complaints. These procedures are not legal proceedcesses to resolve workplace concerns amicably and at the ~~HR/ employee -relations~~ or at [http://www.collin.edu/hr/com-procedures are as follows.

Informal Process

Generally, ~~employees are~~ a complainant is expected to attempt termined by the human resources consultant.

Note:- Attempting to resolve matters informally concerning complaints involving any form of unlawful harassment, plaint may be submitted ~~to the Human Resources Department~~

by using the College District's online complaint form ~~or. Alter-~~

~~act or knowledge of the alleged act so that the College District~~
~~can take appropriate action at the earliest possible stage. A~~

~~delay in reporting may impair the College District's ability to investigate, gather evidence, and/or take corrective action.~~

The employee complaint form¹ can be accessed on the College District's website.

If the complainant needs a reasonable accommodation in order to ~~communicate his or her~~submit their complaint, the individual may contact the ~~chief human resources officer~~ manager, employee relations for assistance.

The complaint will describe all incident(s) at issue. ~~Complaints will, reference violations of specific Board policy, if any, identify any relevant dates or witnesses and, provide sufficient factual detail to support the alleged violations, and indicate the dates of informal resolution conferences, if any.~~

Step 2

Upon an initial review of the complaint, the ~~chief human resources officer~~manager, employee relations will determine whether the allegations, if proven, could constitute prohibited conduct as defined by ~~this~~ Board policy or applicable law. If the allegations do not rise to the level of prohibited or unlawful conduct, the complaint will be dismissed. ~~Otherwise, the complaint will be referred to the next step under this policy. Any appeal will be limited to a determination of whether the complaint falls within the purview of this policy.~~

Otherwise, the complaint will be referred to the next step under this policy. Any appeal will be limited to a determination of whether the complaint falls within the purview of Board policy.

Step 3

~~A meeting with the RRP will be scheduled to provide the complainant with the opportunity to present his or her concerns. Barring unforeseeable circumstances or difficulty with scheduling, the meeting will be scheduled within ten business days of receipt of the complaint. After meeting with the complainant, members of the RRP will undertake an investigation appropriate to the circumstances to reach a determination of the complaint.~~

A meeting with the appropriate campus provost or senior administrator (generally the vice president of the respondent party) will be scheduled. The respondent will also receive a copy of the complaint and be asked to provide a written response that will be shared with the ~~RRP for review~~ campus provost or senior administrator for review. At their discretion or in cases of a conflict, the campus provost or senior administrator may delegate the handling of the complaint under this step to the appropriate dean or administrator.

~~The College District will make reasonable attempts to schedule conferences at a mutually agreeable time. If the individual fails to appear at a scheduled conference without a compelling reason, the complaint will be considered withdrawn.~~

In most cases, the ~~RRP~~campus provost or senior administrator, or a designee, will issue a written summary determination within ten (10) College District business days of completing all meetings related to the complaint ~~and recommend granting or denying each request for relief. If an extension is necessary, the complainant will be notified in the complaint. As part writing of the extension.~~

~~its~~If either the complainant or the respondent disagrees with the decision at Step 3, the complainant or respondent may appeal the determination, the RRP to an ARP who will review the complaint file and issue a determination. An ARP is generally composed of at least two administrators and either one full-time faculty or one full-time staff member depending on the type of complainant.

The appeal must be submitted to the manager, employee relations within ten (10) College District business days of the date listed on the Step 3 decision. The manager, employee relations will confirm receipt of the appeal. The ARP may review additional documents, and if a majority of ARP members agree, may also, but is not required to, recommend alternative relief, conduct interviews of the complainant, the respondent, or witnesses.

The standard of review at this step will be by a preponderance of the evidence.

In most cases, the ARP will issue a written summary determination within ten (10) College District business days of completing all meetings related to the complaint. If an extension is necessary, the appealing party will be notified in writing of the extension.

In some cases, including those involving allegations of unlawful harassment, discrimination, or retaliation, the ~~RRP~~ARP may require additional time in which to ~~conduct an investigation~~review information and prepare a determination. In such cases, the ~~RRP~~ARP will notify the complainant and respondent in writing how much time reasonably will be needed to conclude the ~~investigation~~review and prepare a determination.

~~Step 3 for Determinations Related to Mid- Contract Termination~~

~~For those cases involving the recommended termination of a full-time contract employee during the term of the contract, and where the contract employee appeals the recommended termination, the meeting with the RRP will proceed as follows. The RRP will ensure that the College District/respondent provides specific notice of the basis for the proposed termination to~~

Step 5

~~If the complainant or the~~, if such notice has not been previously provided. ~~Before the meeting scheduled with the RRP, the College District/respondent and the complainant will provide to each other and the members of the RRP a list of witnesses they may present at the meeting, along with a general description of the nature of their testimonies and documents that they intend to use at the meeting with the RRP.~~

~~Both parties will have the right to present witnesses and documentary evidence and to cross-examine witnesses presented by the other party subject to the guidelines imposed by the RRP. The RRP will provide to both the College District/respondent and the complainant the procedures for the meeting including any time restraints placed on the parties' presentations, as well as when each party will be required to provide exhibits and a witness list to the other party and to the RRP, and any other procedures applicable to the meeting before the RRP. The RRP will make a record of the hearing, either by tape recording or by court reporter. The strict rules of evidence will not apply, although all evidence should be relevant. The College District/respondent has the burden of proof and will make its presentation first.~~

~~The College District will make reasonable attempts to schedule RRP meetings at a mutually agreeable time. If the individual fails to appear at a scheduled meeting, the College District may hold the meeting and issue a decision in the individual's absence.~~

~~If either the College District/respondent or the complainant disagrees with the decision of the RRP, the College District/respondent or the complainant~~ ARP at Step 4, either party may appeal the determination to the ~~appropriate~~executive vice president ~~(generally the vice president of the respondent party) or designee~~. The appeal must be submitted to the ~~appropriate vice president (or executive vice president or designee as noted below)~~ manager, employee relations within ten (10) College District business days of the date ~~of-~~ listed on the ~~RRP's~~Step 4 decision. ~~The statement of appeal~~ ~~must:~~

The statement of appeal must:

1. Identify all points of disagreement with the determination;
2. Contain sufficient detail to clarify the basis of the appeal;
and
3. Explain the reasons why the appeal should be granted.
~~The standard of review at this step will be by a preponderance of the evidence.~~

The standard of review at this step will be by a preponderance of the evidence. If neither party files a timely appeal, the determination of the ~~RRP~~ARP becomes final and is non-appealable.

~~Note: For those complaints that involve the termination or non-renewal of a full time contract, the appeal of the RRP's determination will be reviewed by the executive vice president or designee. The standard of review at this step will also be by a preponderance of the evidence.~~

Within ten (10) College District business days of receipt of the appeal, the ~~vice president (or~~ executive vice president ~~(or designee as noted above)~~ will issue a written decision affirming, affirming in part/denying in part, or reversing the ~~RRP's~~ARP's determination.

The decision of the executive vice president or ~~designee-ex-~~
~~ecutive vice president~~ is final and non-appealable for all types of complaints, except for complaints regarding the recommendation for mid-contract termination of a full-time faculty member under DMAA(LOCAL) or of a contract employee. ~~Those types of complaints may proceed to Step 6.~~

If the College District/respondent or If the complainant disagrees with the decision of the executive vice president or designee, either party the faculty member or contract employee may appeal to the Board by notifying the managermanager, of HR/employee relations within ten (10) College District business days of the receipt of the executive vice president or designee's Step 5 decision. The manager, employee relations will confirm receipt of the appeal.~~

Prior to placing the matter on the Board agenda, the District President will review the record. If the District President reverses the ~~termination~~ decision of the executive vice president or designee, the recommendation for termination of the full-time contract employee will be vacated, and the College District/respondent and the complainant will be notified in writing of the District President's findings and related actions regarding the matter. In this case, the matter will not proceed to presentation to the Board.

If the District President affirms the decision of the executive vice president or designee to terminate the full-time contract, the matter will be placed on the agenda for presentation to the Board. In such cases, the matter will be placed on the Board agenda after review by the District President, providing at least ten (10) College District business days' advance written notice to the complainant.

The Board may give notice of its decision orally or in writing at any time up to and including the next regularly scheduled Board meeting after the Board hears the matter. -However, the Board is not required to take any action. -If for any reason the Board does not take any action by the end of the next regularly scheduled meeting, the lack of a response by the Board upholds the last prior administrative decision.

Public Comment to the Board

The Board is not required to take any action concerning a grievance but will listen to the employee's concerns.

Solicitation of Resources

The College District recognizes that appropriate gifts and grants of cash, equipment, real property, and other goods and effects are vital to the College District's growth and development and that seeking support from external sources is fully consistent with the College District's mission and purpose.

Through a letter of understanding between the College District and the Collin County Community College District Foundation, Inc., dated November 21, 1989, the Foundation has been charged with the rights and responsibilities of assisting the College District with the solicitation of external resources. The vice president of advancement or designee will serve as the official liaison with the Foundation to ensure coordination of all College District fundraising activities and objectives. On an annual basis each March, the vice president of advancement or designee will provide a report to the Board of Trustees showing an account of all fundraising activities, major gifts, and other donations received during the prior fiscal year identifying major donors and corporate partners.

The Foundation has been designated as the official repository for gifts from the private sector that are donated to advance the College District's mission and purpose. Assets administered by the Foundation will be used exclusively for the benefit of the College District to include support for programs, employees, and students pursuing stated goals of the College District.

Grants and Other

AGENDA ITEM: Report Out of the Finance and Audit Committee and Consideration of Approval for an Increase in Student Housing Fees

DISCUSSION: Board approval is needed for any student fees, including Student Housing rental fees. An increase in rent is necessary to support the Student Housing program and provide additional amenities to support student success. This proposal would increase the rent for each of our housing options by 4% per residency term option. This recommended increase is in response to the increase in mandatory fees associated with utilities and insurance.

The chart below outlines the current and proposed fees. Rent will be charged on a semester basis similar to other colleges (4.5 months). The average rent per month will be $87-$146 per semester more than the current rate, depending on the unit size and number of bedrooms, during the fall and spring semesters, and $68-$114 for a full summer.

DISTRICT PRESIDENT'S RECOMMENDATION: The District President recommends approval of the Student Housing fee increases effective for 2023-2024 in the amount equivalent to 4% per residency term option.

SUGGESTED MOTION: "Mr. Chairman, I make a motion that the Board of Trustees of Collin County Community College District approves a 4% increase in Student Housing rental fees in each of the full and partial semester options.

ADMINISTRATION RECOMMENDATION/REPORT

The District President recommends the Board of Trustees approves a contract for a Continuing Education Registration System from Modern Campus for the Technology Services Department.

BACKGROUND

The Continuing Education Department is seeking to replace its legacy, and soon to be unsupported, course registration application. The Modern Campus solution, called Destiny One, will provide an improved user experience for registering for CE courses. Modern Campus is also a Workday preferred partner for CE registration. The Destiny One application will facilitate user registration and provide a “shopping cart” experience for continuing education/workforce development registration.

Request For Proposal (RFP) Number 4533 was issued to procure a Continuing Education Registration System. One response was received. The response submitted by Modern Campus was evaluated by a team consisting of staff from Technology Services, Academic Affairs/Workforce Development, and VP Provost – Technical Campus. The proposal submitted by Modern Campus is being recommended as the best value to the District.

IMPACT OF THIS ACTION

This online registration software system for the College will replace the current registration system which will no longer be supported after September 2024. The use of this registration system will allow flexibility for Continuing Education to improve the ease of registration and provide integrated services with Workday.

BUDGET INFORMATION (INCLUDING ANY STAFFING IMPLICATIONS)

This purchasing request is for spend authorization of $877,877 for five (5) years. Year one (1) will be funded from the Workday project budget ($248,688) and years 2-5 will be funded from the Continuing Education operating budgets ($639,189), pending Board approval.

MONITORING AND REPORTING TIMELINE

The contract term is April 1, 2023 through March 31, 2028.

Information Report

Carl D. Perkins Grant Report

The Vocational Education Act of 1984, often called the Carl D. Perkins Act or the Perkins Act, authorizes federal funds funneled through the state to support vocational education programs. Collin College has been receiving Perkins funding for many years. However, in 2022, we crossed the million-dollar threshold for the first time. The trend continues this year as well.

How high? How long?

Markets are coming to grips with the idea that the Fed is going to keep moving rates higher until they get inflation under control. The overall modest growth of the economy, tight labor markets and a resilient consumer added to the stubbornly high inflation is showing the Fed that more hikes are not only appropriate but may be necessary to reinstate price stability.

In fact, this month's uptick in economic strength may convince some FOMC voting members that the pace of rate ascent should also re-accelerate. Having come to the inflation fight late they are unlikely to leave too early. There is another meeting in March.

From the Fed's perspective these indicators are showing a modest but steady economy which means that the consumer and business can withstand significantly higher rates.

The economy, as measured by the GDP, has had its fits and starts. The Q4 report showed slowing but the consumer keeps consuming. That consumer activity however is coming from credit card use, maxed out savings and no anticipation of further fiscal stimulus which must eventually reduce the spending.

Real durable goods, a major economic index, dropped measurably in January, the largest drop since April of 2020. While headline orders continue to disappoint underlying the numbers suggest that business investment has improved however giving the Fed more wiggle room to increase rates.

Manufacturing in general has taken the brunt of the hit as consumers not only cut back, but also increasingly shift from goods to services expenditures. The service industry has – as a broader trend – also seen a sizable reduction in activity this year. The picture is hazy and it will require time to find the trajectory.

Stubborn Inflation vs Price Stability

The CPI and PPI clearly remain stubbornly high – especially the PPI. While there is improvement from last month the rate of improvement has slowed, falling short of expectations. The Fed's favorite inflation indicator the PCE (up 0.6%) has reversed its recent downward trend. The Fed needs to slow inflation from peak levels but also assure a continuation of decline back down to a more palatable and sustainable level at the Fed's 2% target. For the Fed, halfway won't cut it. Year-over-year, core inflation increased 4.7% from 4.6% last month.

Energy price concerns are once again taking center stage (along with eggs!). Reacting to global sanctions Moscow is cutting production and raising rates. Thanks to a warmer than usual winter this has saved Europe somewhat. Crude prices pose a sizeable risk to European economies (our trading partners) many of which are teetering on the brink of recession. In the EU, CPI rose 8.6% in January following a 9.2% in December. In the UK inflation is now 10.1% and is likely to continue driving those central banks to higher rates also.

Globally, China is another factor on the road to higher rates. The Chinese government appears to be taking control over exports especially in tech areas and those decisions will be at least partially driven by geo-politics which may raise prices. At least some trade curtailments may help US manufacturers domestically.

CPI IS STILL WITH US

Expectations Drive Rates

The Fed further moderated their pace of rate hikes, giving us only a 0.25% hike on February 2.

The Fed fully concedes that higher rates will slow growth but is willing to take these actions to tame inflation through lessening demand.

Continued inflation within a modestly strong economy may allow the Fed to re-invigorate their hikes however.

There are signs of slightly slowing inflation such as lower rents and a reduced need for workers. Housing however continues to slow amid high mortgage rates. Strapped consumers are struggling not only to make every day nondiscretionary purchases, but also certainly large ticket purchases such as a home. Low home inventory will not allow prices to drop any real degree.

How high? How long?

Markets are coming to grips with the idea that the Fed is going to keep moving rates higher until they get inflation under control. The overall modest growth of the economy, tight labor markets and a resilient consumer added to the stubbornly high inflation is showing the Fed that more hikes are not only appropriate but may be necessary to reinstate price stability.

In fact, this month's uptick in economic strength may convince some FOMC voting members that the pace of rate ascent should also re-accelerate. Having come to the inflation fight late they are unlikely to leave too early. There is another meeting in March.

From the Fed's perspective these indicators are showing a modest but steady economy which means that the consumer and business can withstand significantly higher rates.

The economy, as measured by the GDP, has had its fits and starts. The Q4 report showed slowing but the consumer keeps consuming. That consumer activity however is coming from credit card use, maxed out savings and no anticipation of further fiscal stimulus which must eventually reduce the spending.

Real durable goods, a major economic index, dropped measurably in January, the largest drop since April of 2020. While headline orders continue to disappoint underlying the numbers suggest that business investment has improved however giving the Fed more wiggle room to increase rates.

Manufacturing in general has taken the brunt of the hit as consumers not only cut back, but also increasingly shift from goods to services expenditures. The service industry has – as a broader trend – also seen a sizable reduction in activity this year. The picture is hazy and it will require time to find the trajectory.

Stubborn Inflation vs Price Stability

The CPI and PPI clearly remain stubbornly high – especially the PPI. While there is improvement from last month the rate of improvement has slowed, falling short of expectations. The Fed's favorite inflation indicator the PCE (up 0.6%) has reversed its recent downward trend. The Fed needs to slow inflation from peak levels but also assure a continuation of decline back down to a more palatable and sustainable level at the Fed's 2% target. For the Fed, halfway won't cut it. Year-over-year, core inflation increased 4.7% from 4.6% last month.

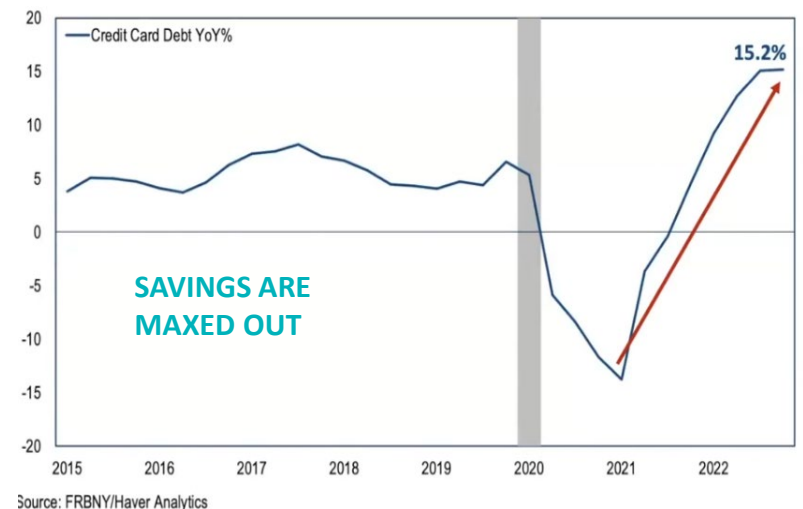

Energy price concerns are once again taking center stage (along with eggs!). Reacting to global sanctions Moscow is cutting production and raising rates. Thanks to a warmer than usual winter this has saved Europe somewhat. Crude prices pose a sizeable risk to European economies (our trading partners) many of which are teetering on the brink of recession. In the EU, CPI rose 8.6% in January following a 9.2% in December. In the UK inflation is now 10.1% and is likely to continue driving those central banks to higher rates also.

Globally, China is another factor on the road to higher rates. The Chinese government appears to be taking control over exports especially in tech areas and those decisions will be at least partially driven by geo-politics which may raise prices. At least some trade curtailments may help US manufacturers domestically.

CPI IS STILL WITH US

SAVINGS ARE MAXED OUT

Expectations Drive Rates

The Fed further moderated their pace of rate hikes, giving us only a 0.25% hike on February 2.

The Fed fully concedes that higher rates will slow growth but is willing to take these actions to tame inflation through lessening demand.

Continued inflation within a modestly strong economy may allow the Fed to re-invigorate their hikes however.

There are signs of slightly slowing inflation such as lower rents and a reduced need for workers. Housing however continues to slow amid high mortgage rates. Strapped consumers are struggling not only to make every day nondiscretionary purchases, but also certainly large ticket purchases such as a home. Low home inventory will not allow prices to drop any real degree.
